Welcome to the World of Leisure Suit Larry! I hope you are having as much fun playing this game as all of us had creating it. Leisure Suit Larry goes Looking for Love (in Several Wrong Places) is a linear adventure game; in order to proceed you must solve most of the puzzles in the current region. Thus, this book is divided into chapters that correspond to the major regions of the game.

There are many puzzles in Looking for Love and not all of them may be answered here. If you have a problem that I've omitted, feel free to contact Sierra's Customer Support Department at (209) 683-6858.

Before you proceed, take a moment right now to read the reference card that came with your game and experiment with all the items in the menu bar.

The whole point of playing Leisure Suit Larry goes Looking for Love (in Several Wrong Places) is to discover its puzzles and then discover the solutions to them. However, some puzzles may be so well hidden or so obtuse that you do not know where to begin. Or, this may be your first experience with an adventure game.

When you get stumped, look through this book to find the region in which you are playing. Then hunt for a question close to your problem. Use your answer card by placing the red window over the answer you wish to read. Hints progress from "mildly helpful" to "strong" to "here's the answer!" It is best to read them individually and in sequence instead of reading all the answers immediately. Be sure to read only those hints you really need.

HOW NOT TO USE A HINT BOOK

It is not fair just to scan through the book coloring away all the answers! Read only those hints absolutely necessary, and as few of those as you can. Type words in "quotation marks" into the game exactly as shown. Beware, you may find one or more fake questions hidden here or there.

IF YOU HAVE FINISHED THE GAME

After you have won Looking for Love, we invite you to check out the final chapter of this book. It contains several "potent" sections you will enjoy. But be very cautious using this section! Do not look at it until you have actually seen the end of the game.

Thanks

...for purchasing Leisure Suit Larry goes Looking for Love (in Several Wrong Places) and this hint book. I hope you have found the game humorous and challenging. If so, I encourage you to look into Sierra's other 3-D graphic, animated adventure games!

GENERAL QUESTIONS

All I do is wander about? Is this all there is to an adventure game?

Please refer to the documentation that came with the game.

Search carefully through every place you find.

Especially search Eve's garage.

What is the point of this game anyway?

You are Larry Coffey, a 40-year-old, balding, a-romantic jerk. You hope to find true love someday, especially since you are having love problems with your 16-year-old wife.

There are many paths you must follow to achieve the goal, but (as in most games) you have no idea what they are, let alone how to solve them. To help you get started, follow these three easy steps to adventure gaming:

"Logical" everything, everyone, everywhere.

"Talk to" everyone you meet.

"Take" anything that is not nailed down. (Most probably have some use later.)

I am having trouble getting the game to understand me. I know what I want to try and it seems logical, but all I get is a "Not now!"

Be sure to use complete English sentences, especially the word "THE". Whenever it should be, i.e., "put THE valent in THE trunk", "THE's" are not ignored in looking for "love", but are needed so the game understands your sentence better. Since the game will understand some "jumbled" English, don't count on it by habitually typing "put valent in trunk".

Of course, it could just be that what you are trying is a good one, but should really be tried later in the game, or will never work at all.

I'm tired of dying and starting over from the beginning!

Everyone fails a lot in adventure games. That's one reason it is so satisfying when you finally finish the game.

Be sure to save your game periodically as you progress. Adventure games are designed to be saved and restored, so you don't have to start over again at the beginning just because you made a mistake.

How come my score went down?

Simpler: If your score drops, you have made a mistake.

Better: restore a previous saved game, and try something else.

Larry walks too slow. Is there any way of speeding up this game?

Read the reference card that came with your game. You will find instructions concerning changing speeds for most computers (the plus and minus keys make Larry go faster and slower). On some computers, scenes with lots of animation may run at normal speed even at Fast speed.

What good is the "Boss Key"?

A good way to keep from getting fired when you are caught playing games when you should be working.

No, there is no way to return to where you were, except to "Restore".

You shouldn't be playing games at work, anyway!

How can I see objects I've collected?

Just type "look at that" and the object's name. Be sure to refer to objects exactly as they are named on your inventory list.

Or, on the inventory list, select an object (either with the mouse or TAB key) and press enter (or click with your mouse).

AROUND LOS ANGELES

I have no money, yet every clerk in Los Angeles seems to expect it. I've heard it takes money to make money, but how does a guy get started around here?

Since the game begins at Eve's house, look carefully there. Look inside Eve's garage.

If you still have not found anything, step on inside the garage and you are completely hidden. Then "look at the garage" and you will find a pair of Eve's slacks. "Take the dollar bill from Eve's pants" and a bonus!

You should have followed the "Walk Thru" in the documentation that came with your game. It introduces you to adventure-gaming, and gives you some ideas with which to begin.

I bought a lottery ticket; why am I never notified of the week's results? How can I find out if I am a lottery winner?

You don't have a house or television set, so you cannot just walk and watch the "Lucky Life Lottery" show on TV. Take the initiative.

"Look" at everything you can find. You need to find a place involved in the lottery besides the Quik-Mart store.

Go west from the Quik-Mart to KROD television studios.

Enter the lobby, walk to the receptionist sitting behind the counter. "Show me lottery ticket to the receptionist." She will tell you the six winning numbers.

Of course, you may have to lie because you selected exactly the same six numbers back at the Quik-Mart.

Write down the numbers she tells you. When asked, type in those numbers (NOT the numbers you entered at the Quik-Mart).

I was thirsty. I bought a soda but the results blew me away!

I do not buy a "Grotesque Chip unless you have money with which to pay for it. You can get one free."

Quick! How do I get lots of money?

Take the dollar bill from Eve's pants inside her garage. Walk to the Quik-Mart store and purchase a lottery ticket.

Walk to KROD TV studios, enter and show your lottery ticket to the girl.

When she tells you the six winning numbers, tell them back to her. She will think you won the lottery and get you on the TV show for a chance at the big money!

I am inside the TV studio but nothing happens. How long am I supposed to stand around here?

"Standing around" is your problem.

There is a bench along the rear wall. Take a load off your feet.

You will be summoned to the show only after you've sat on the bench for at least thirty seconds.

I'm rich! But I can't seem to spend it anywhere.

Cruise over to Paged Drive.

Enter Moto-Leaf and look carefully at the back wall. It recently changed. They are having a sale.

Walk to the back of the back wall. Take 150 steps out from the back wall to the front of the counter. Pay the clerk for the swim suit. She will tell you the price and give you change — plus you will have a swim suit that will come in handy later.

I have a cruise ticket, but where is the Love Tub?

Did you notice any stores that were closed during your cruise through Los Angeles? Double-check them while waiting for your ship to come in.

You must get a haircut at the barber shop below the Quik-Mart. Electro-Mechanics Garage will do.

Visit the music shop. Tell to the clerk. You'll be amazed at the many, mind-boggling mixups that follow.

How come that music store is always closed?

It will open, but only when you are ready for it.

I've tried, but I can't get anything to happen Inside the barber shop.

You must save enough money.

You must have the million dollar bill.

Walk near the barber's chair at the rear of the shop and tell to the chair.

This guy I met tells me I need my passport in order to continue. I don't have a passport, do I?

Remember, you showed in with Eve before this game began. She threw you out.

Check around her house.

Not inside. Think what a woman would do if she wanted to get rid of all reminders of you. Where would she put your stuff?

Things change. It doesn't hurt to re-visit places you've been before.

This is such a trashy problem I hesitate to continue.

Wait until Eve puts out her rubbish. Then search through it.

Not the trash bin outside the Quik-Mart, but the garbage cans outside Eve's house.

ON THE GOOD SHIP LOVE TUB

How do I keep that Mother from killing me?

There are several ways the horny Mrs. Simba will attack.

Don't get too close to her when there's on the boat.

Don't mess with her stuff -- when she's watching. Don't wait for her to leave. She won't let sleep as you remain in the room with her. So remember she left the door between your bunks open unlocked at least 150 degrees but can't open when she's not around.

Don't let her catch you naked in your room. If you peeked inside her closet, you know she's got plans for you! She's just waiting for you to go daddy-duty!

Don't return to your cabin after dark, or you will always be sleepy. Be down and... here (previous sentence was deleted).

I'd like to go through Momma's drawers, but she keeps catching me in the act!

If you find game in the box are in your room, then think Momma's gonna catch you. Ensure your phone, because you're dead meat.

Momma's won't catch you if you take the room while keeping your clothes.

Whenever I enter my cabin, I find myself "loved to death!"

Move quietly on the boat to accomodate what you must. Momma will always open up your night box first, and from then on you can't return to your room without trying to avoid Momma's bedding! You may need to restart an easier game and play the entire ship area more efficiently.

Do the things you need to do in your cabin first. If you never return, you won't get caught.

There must be some point to that swimming pool.

There is! Here you find swimming in style.

Of course, you must wear your swimming suit first.

I'd like to take a swim in the pool, but I can't find a suitable spot to change clothes.

You're moment. Later. Find your state-room and change there. Remember what the officer told you before you boarded the ship. You can zoom in all day away to the 2nd deck rear of the Love Tub.

If I dive into the pool, I drown.

You can't just float there.

If you do not "swim" after you jump in, you will drown.

I order lots of drinks at the revolving bar, but regardless of what I order, I end up with the same thing.

THREE DRINKS OF THIS KIND HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY THE CAPTAIN OF THE LOVE TUB.

Simple, just don't order anything at the bar. OR just ignore it.

IT IS POSSIBLE TO GET A FREE DRINK IF YOU ASK FOR IT.

I am trapped on the Love Tub, have found the lifeboat, but can not find a way to deploy it.

Have you gone to the bridge? There's something on the panel behind the Captain that will help you.

Look carefully. Examining everything you see there.

"Look at the console" then "look at the lights." You find a switch.

"Look at the switch." "Press the lifeboat switch."

You have only a few minutes to get aboard the lifeboat before the boat is lowered to the water.

The lifeboats keep leaving without me! The PA announcement says I'm too late.

You must make the lifeboat switch your final action aboard the ship.

After you "press the lifeboat switch," go directly to the lifecraft area. "Jump into the lifeboat."

I have been to the bridge, but the captain has this nasty habit of dying, resulting in a Love Tub disaster.

Be extremely careful where you walk.

It is possible to walk forward just enough to reach the bridge control panel without attracting the attention of the KGB agent lying in wait outside the bridge.

There are several ways the horny Mrs. Bimbo will attack...
Don't get too close to her when she's on the bed!

Don't mess with her stuff — when she's watching. Don't wait for her to leave. She won't as long as you remain in the room with her. But remember: she left the door between your staterooms unlocked, so feel free check out her room when she's not around.

Don't let her catch you napping in your room. If you peeked inside her closet, you know she's got plans for you! She's just waiting for you to go beddy-bye!

Don't return to your cabin after dark, as you will always be sleepy, lie down and... (see previous Momma rule, above).

Save your game while you are in your room, then enter Momma's room. If she catches you, restore your game, because you're dead meat!
Momma won't catch you if you enter her room while wearing your swimsuit.

Move quickly on the boat to accomplish what you must. Momma will always come once night has fallen, and from then on you cannot return to your room without dying from severe Momma flattening! You may need to restore an earlier game and play the entire ship area more efficiently.

Do the things you need to do in your cabin first. If you never return, you won't get caught.

There is. Have you tried swimming in it?
Of course, you must wear your swimming suit first.

You're modest, Larry! Find your stateroom and change there. Remember what the purser told you before you boarded the ship: your room is all the way to the bottom rear of the Love Tub.

You can't just float there.
If you do not "swim" after you jump in, you will drown.

Saxophone reeds under your fingernails, eh?
Simple: just don't order anything at the bar. It is just there for atmosphere. Ignore it.

Have you gone to the bridge? There's something on the panel behind the Captain that will help you.

Look carefully. Examine everything you see there.

I cut down the lifeboat with the knife, but where can I find a paddle?

You can't find a paddle in this game.

And this is an example of a Take Here

Stop reading there.

You are really a goddam fool, dammit!

I am in the lifeboat and away from the Love Tub, but I'm getting a heck of a dose of ultraviolet! Where is the sunscreen hidden on the ship?

You can't find it in this game. It's hidden in the Amusement in the Love Tub section.

Check at the shower. Tom always places it in the shower, and you don't have to leave the tub to get to it.

It is behind the bank of shelves to the left. You must be near it to be able to see it.

Remember, you can't move to another room unless you manage to get there.

I have the sunscreen and applied it at the swimming pool before I laid down to catch some rays. How come I die here on the lifeboat?

You can't swim in the Love Tub.

It's just water.

Remember to apply the sunscreen before you get to the floating sofa.

Do it while the tub is floating away from the Love Tub, but before you see the floating sofa.

The sunscreen has protected me, but my scalp is now cooked "Sunnyside Soft!"

You can't sleep in the Love Tub unless you

The Love Tub has no seat you can climb to shield your brain from those wacky burning rays.

Wait training after you've left the Love Tub.

Do it while the tub is floating away from the Love Tub, but before you see the floating sofa.

I think I'm supposed to wear something on the lifeboat. I have it, but every time I try to put it on, the game responds "Not now!" If "not now," when? If "not here," where?

You can't put it on while still on the Love Tub or in the Amusement

Your swimwear disappears! Besides when you're down the side of the Love Tub and take off your shirt or shorts,

I'm so thirsty. I'm as dry as dust. In fact, I AM dust!

You can't drink, doing something to drink.

Remember the Love Tub section is less known? See? That's where you'll be the odds of finding your drink. It's hard to find a straw.

Take it with you enough so to last a 10-day cotton journey.

Otherwise, you will have to go back to Los Angeles to get this.

Don't worry.

It's a good idea to bring a bottle of water.

I'm green with envy. Others get past this lifeboat, but I am just sick of trying.

You can't leave the Love Tub.

You should know better than to leave the Love Tub out in the sun for five days.

It's not good for the skin, especially if you're not used to the sun.

It's not wise for the skin to get burnt away from the Love Tub, but that's what you see the odds of getting it.

I pitched the spinach dip and now I starve to death on the lifeboat!

You can't eat in the Love Tub because it's a bucket of salt, a 1000g tub of salt from Mexico.

Or, they can't eat in the Love Tub because it's a bucket of salt from Mexico.

It's in the drawer of the nightstand in her apartment.

AT THE TROPICAL RESORT

After wandering forever through a jungle I found, I finally emerged into a "lovely restaurant." Is there anything I can do here?

You could talk to the maid, sit down, and wait for a table.

That's the only thing you can do.

This is an example of a fake question.
And this is an example of a fake hint.
Stop reading these.
You're really a glutton for punishment.

It's not. But there is some fo... ile back in Los Angeles.
It's in Swab's Drugstore.
"Look at the shelves" from different places in the drugstore until you find it. Larry doesn't have x-ray vision and cannot see around corners!
It is behind the bank of shelves to the left. You must be near it to be able to see it.
Unfortunately, you will have to restore back to Los Angeles to do this.

Did you go swimming after you applied it?
Perhaps it just wore off.
Regardless, you must apply the sunscreen before you get to the lifeboat scene.
Do it while the lifeboat is drifting away from the Love Tub, but before you see the closeup of Larry's face.

Find a place aboard the Love Tub that looks familiar.
The ship's barber will sell you something to shield your brain pan from those wacky tanning rays.
Wear the wig after you've left the Love Tub.
Do it while the lifeboat is drifting away from the Love Tub, but before you see the closeup of Larry's face.

You can't put it on while still on the Love Tub (it's too embarrassing). Your window of opportunity begins when your lifeboat clears the side of the Love Tub and lasts until you drift off screen.

You must bring along something to drink.
Remember the Quiki-Mart store in Los Angeles? Yep. That's where it is.
"Look at the soda machine" near the front of the store. "Buy a Grotesque Gulp." That will give you enough soda to last a 10-day ocean journey. Unfortunately, you will have to restore back to Los Angeles to do this.

Brought along a little spinach dip, eh?
You should know better than to leave mayonnaise out in the sun for five days!
Get rid of it.
Do it while the lifeboat is drifting away from the Love Tub, but before you see the closeup of Larry's face.

In your stateroom, beneath the porthole, is a basket of fruit, a thoughtful gift from Momma Bimbo.
Or, if you can obtain it, Momma has something that will earn more points. It is in the drawer of the nightstand in her stateroom.

You could talk to the maitre 'd, sit down, and wait for a table.
That's the only way you will get inside.

I am at my table in the restaurant, but every time I eat the food I die. Is there something here that I'm missing?

It's not at the hors d'oeuvres table.

There is a knife next to the crusted plate.

Take it. You will need it later when you are just hanging around.

These KGB guys won't let me use their beach! In fact, they're quite adamant about it. I can't even walk across it in order to escape this place!

Don't fool them.

They're a bunch so they will not recognize you.

Read their messages carefully. They are telling you exactly how to

It appears I should change out of this leisure suit, but I only have half a bikini! Plus, I lost my swimsuit in the lifeboat crash.

You need both a top and a bottom to your swimsuit. If you have one she, not the other you can not proceed.

A bikini bottom -10 required at the sunny beach after the rescue before reaching your hair.

It's on the rock where Dr. Horrible's henchmate was sunbathing.

Ok, I give up! Where's the bikini top?

Look for the top at the bottom.

You must take a dive to find it.

While you're swimming in the ship's swimming pool, "dive" for a few sunken treasures.

Swim out to the center of the pool, "dive" underwater, swim straight down and you will find a bikini top stuck in the pool chain. "Dive" in. Quickly swim to the surface again, or you will run out of air.

I have both parts of the bikini but can't find a place to change clothes.

This is similar to the "I have two swimmers" problem. However, if you are a modest type, lounge around.

Change in that empty guest room.

There is a private spot in the jungle.

It's not forward (left) from the guest room. It's right (right). This is also the same place as the "I have two swimmers" problem.

I am now a blonde in a bikini, but the KGB thinks I'm too flat-chested. Please don't tell me I have to visit the barber shop for THIS sort of help!

No, but you do need to stick out your chest.

Isn't your bathing something that could be used to fill out your chest?

You have something resembling breast. There is also something in the guest room's bathroom. Either of them will work.

This is one of the places where you must use "THIS" whenever you'd use it in a real situation.

Return to the guest room's dressing area and pour the soap in the basin top.

Or, you can put the money in the bikini top.

It's easy for you, Al; I have seen your picture on the back of the box. YOU have no trouble with "excess body hair!"

You won't either if you will just kick your friend the Barber again.

He has the ability to clear up your problem once again.

Maria seems like such a nice maid. How do I get her to give me the magic flying dust?

Bring her a gift.

Did her.

Say what?

This is a phony question. Why are you reading these answers?

Is there any way to get quickly through this Jungle scene?

Yes, as soon as you hit the rescue bridge, the scene shortens to only three paragraphs.

Actually, every time you visit Eshkolans by his "schick," but it takes a long time.

Just beneath the tree was the way of giving you a chance to take a break from the game, while letting the game continue. Notice that, just as you are about to leave the scene, a message says "Dope my telling you what you've found." This is as you can take a break, leave the game, return later to find all words you've learned.

Yes.

And it is at the hors d'ouerves table.

There is a knife next to the cheese plate.

Take it. You will need it later when you are just hanging around.

You must fool them.

Disguise yourself so they will not recognize you.

Read their messages carefully. They are telling you exactly how to proceed.

You need both a top and a bottom to your bikini. If you have one and not the other you can not proceed.

A bikini bottom will appear at the nude beach after the resort barber bleaches your hair.

It's on the rock where Dr. Nonookee's henchette was sunbathing.

Look for the top at the bottom.

You must take a dive to find it.

While you're swimming in the ship's swimming pool, "dive" for a little sunken treasure.

Swim out to the center of the pool, "dive" underwater, swim straight down and you will find a bikini top stuck in the pool drain. "Take" it. Quickly swim to the surface again, or you will run out of air.

This is similar to the Love Tub swimsuit problem. Remember you are a modest little lounge lizard.

Change in that empty guest room.

Find a private spot.

Walk forward until you are near the picture window on the far wall. Then walk to the right until you are completely hidden. Change clothes there.

No, but you do need to stick out a bit.

Aren't you carrying something that could be used to fill out your character?

You have something resembling tissue. There is also something in the guest room's bathroom. Either of them will work.

This is one of the places where you must use "THE" wherever you'd use it in a real sentence.

Return to the guest room's dressing area and "put the soap in the bikini top."

Or, you can "put the money in the bikini top."

You won't either if you will just visit your friend the barber again. He has the ability to clear up your problem once again.

Wrong game.

Bad hint.

Say what?

This is a phony question. Why are you reading these answers?

Yes. As soon as you visit the resort barber, the scene shortens to only three entrances.

Actually, every time you visit, it shortens by one "schtick," but it still takes a long time.

Just between us, this was my way of giving you a chance to take a break from the game, while letting the game continue. Notice that, just as you are about to leave this scene, a message pops up telling you what you've found. This is so you can take a break, leave the room, then return later to find out where you've arrived.

AT THE AEROPORTO

So exactly what is wrong with me attempting to enter the Aeroporto dressed in long, flowing blonde hair and a bikini?

Perhaps the airport guards find you exciting.

Regardless, you will have to change back to your leisure suit.

No, you can't change here in full view of the guards. Your modesty prevents you. Where else you should be completely naked except at the end of the strip. You usually take off your clothes. At the end of the strip, you usually take off your clothes. Change into the leisure suit at that time. But hurry, your break doesn't last long.

I can't seem to get past those robed flower children at the Aeroporto.

Have you ever seen any dressed up dressed up people?

Do you know what those people sometimes offer you?

If you offered one to them, you might throw them off balance.

Where were you at the station? These are flower children. Throw them off them and offer them a flower.

Where could I obtain a botanical sample suitable for exchange purposes?

The number one way to obtain the landscaping and such on the import. Remember how to keep getting lost?

Especially that sequences caused you to snarl up.

If you "look," it mentions beautiful landscaping and flowers.

If you "look at the flowers," you see something interesting.

Unfortunately, you will have to restore back to the circle to do this.

I found Gate #1 and would like to get aboard that departing flight, but I need a ticket.

You must go to the front of the line at the ticket counter.

I waited in line at that airline ticket counter all night and my line never moved! Which is the proper line to use?

This is a personal tribute to all those times I have waited on the never moved who or anyone who passes the flight through.

Never mind which line the answer here is to NOT DO THE SOMETHING. That's east past that customs agent and stand around the rest of the airport.

You will find some things of interest. Let none of them pass you by. Take everything as it comes.

Check out the luggage on the conveyor belt. You will never know what people might try to steal from here.

"Take the bag from the conveyor belt until you find a suitcase with that special something."

How come I can't eat the "Blue Plate Special" or even take it with me? I bought it, didn't I?

By the way, that's a blue PLATE special, not Blue PLATE. Just another thing at this place is lack of half stuff.

Since you can't eat it or take it, what else could you do with it?

Search the place and nothing the cause of this trouble.

Leave the special sitting on the gravy.

There is not enough time to get to Gate #1 while shopping all along the way.

Then more efficiently. Avoid faster speeds at little and scatters up.

Do your shopping first, before you take the airplane. You will skip your passion through the explosion and will not have to add on your way to the gate.

ON THE AIRPLANE

I am trying to survive my airplane flight, but keep getting killed by that bore sitting beside me. How do I get past those drink carts?

You can't just pass the carts, but you can distract the bore. What do movies do in planes to M. T. M. T.?

No, not "severeness" anyway.

Not, not bore your neighbor. There's already going there.

Give him something distracting, something that will hold his attention while you slip away.

Something to read.

Perhaps the airport guards find you exciting.

Regardless, you will have to change back to your leisure suit.

No, you can't change here in full view of the guards. Your modesty prevents you. Where have you recently been completely out of sight? At the end of the cliff scene, you pause to catch your breath. "Change into the leisure suit" at that time. But hurry, your break doesn't last long.

Have you ever actually been approached in an airport?

Do you know what those people sometimes offer you?

If you offered one to them, you might throw them off balance.

Where were you in the sixties? These are flower children KGB kids. Turn the tables on them and offer them a flower.

Remember how dense the landscaping was back at the resort?
Remember how you kept getting lost?

Evidently, that sequence lulled you to inactivity.

If you "look," it mentions beautiful landscaping and flowers.

If you "look at the flowers," you see something interesting.

Unfortunately, you will have to restore back to the jungle to do this.

You must get to the front of the line at the ticket counter.

This is a personal tribute to all those lines I have waited on that never moved, while all around me people zip right through.

Never mind which line, the answer here is to not do the obvious.
Walk east past that customs agent and snoop around the rest of the airport.

You will find some things of interest. Let none of them pass you by.
Take everything as it comes.

Check out the luggage on the conveyor belt. You will never know what people might try to ship from here.

"Take the bag from the conveyor belt" until you find a suitcase with "that special something!"

By the way, that's a blue PATE special, not blue PLATE. Just another dig at poor Larry's lack of hair style.

Since you can't eat it or take it, what else could you do with it?

Search the gravy and extract the cause of your trouble.

"Take the bobby pin from the gravy."

Play more efficiently. Avoid Faster speeds as time also speeds up.
Do your shopping first, before you take the suitcase. You will keep your possessions through the explosion and will not have to stop on your way to the gate.

You can't get past the carts, but you can distract the bore. What do people do in planes to kill time?

No, not "stewardess fondling!"

No, not "bore your neighbor!" (Ken's already doing that!)

Give him something distracting, something that will hold his attention while you slip away.

Something to read.

Where can a person find something interesting to read?

"Doesn't the writing room?"

You were in such a hurry to board the airplane, you forgot to be a good adventurer. Better return there, and "look at" everything you see.

"Look at the toilet沉默"

"Take a delicious pamphlet from the book."

Did it before you show your ticket to the agent.

I got away from my seat on the plane, escaped the treacherous carts and can now roam the airplane at will. Unfortunately, when the plane lands I get caught by the KGB.

Perhaps you should not be there when it lands.

Did you buy flight insurance before your trip? It should clue you in as to how to avoid the end of the trip.

You've got to "D. B. Cooper" your way out of this one.

If you did not buy insurance, there is a machine near the airport snack bar.

I'd love to use my flight insurance, Monte, but I can't find door number three!

The front exit is severely damaged.

There are three doors at the rear of the aircraft. The two you can see are bedrooms, and this is not.

The emergency escape exit is in the rear wall of the rear of the aircraft.
You can't see it unless you are close enough.

I have found the emergency exit, but it is locked with a padlock.
Where is the key?

If there's a key, I don't know where it is.

You will just have to pick your own way out of this problem.

Do you notice what did not agree with you in the "Blue Plate Special?"

Ladies often use them for purposes other than their original intent.

I can make the emergency exit shiny clean, but I blow every- thing up — Including me!

"Did you taste the 'Blue Plate Special' at the airport snack bar?"

Don't "shove" up, just remove the offending ingredient.

"You can't find a word here."

I have entered the restroom at the back of the airplane, but can't defuse the bomb without blowing up the plane.

"Why are you reading this tiny book? You might be carrying Police Queen M. G. Guy J. M. Hall's tiny book."

It's impossible for you to enter this restroom. Those other guys are always too fast.

Does this game get more difficult as it progresses, or am I getting more dense?

"You're getting more dense."

Fight! Just kidding. You're right, it does get harder.

I suckered you in with a super-easy, bus-filled Los Angeles, then turned on the heat. By the time you realized it was a tough game, you were hooked.

ON NONTONYT ISLAND

Here I hang, twisting slowly in the wind! How do you get down from a tree?

"You don't. You get down from a duck!"

(drum roll) Sorry.

You must cut your way to freedom. Good adventurers always pack a knife.

It's in the restaurant, back at the resort.

Yes, it's "Restaurant" time again!

Did you try the waiting room?

You were in such a hurry to board the airplane, you forgot to be a good adventurer! Better return there, and "look at" everything you see.

"Look at the ticket counter."

"Take a religious pamphlet from the desk."

Do it before you show your ticket to the agent.

Perhaps you should not be there when it lands.

Did you buy flight insurance before your trip? It should clue you in as to how to avoid the end of the flight.

You've got to "D. B. Cooper" your way out of this one!

If you did not buy insurance, there is a machine near the airport snack bar.

The front exit is securely fastened.

There are three doors at the rear of the aircraft. The two you can see are restrooms, another is not.

The emergency escape exit is in the near wall of the rear of the aircraft. You can't see it unless you are close enough.

If there's a key, I don't know where it is!

You will just have to pick your own way out of this problem.

Did you notice what did not agree with you in the "Blue Pate Special?"

Ladies often use them for purposes other than their original intent.

Did you taste the "Blue Pate Special" at the airport snack bar?

Don't "choke" up, just remove the offending ingredient.

You will find it useful here.

Why are you reading this hint book? You must be playing Police Quest III! Go buy Jim Wall's hint book!

It's impossible for you to enter this restroom. Those other guys are always too fast.

You're getting more dense.

Nah! Just kidding. You're right; it does get harder.

I suckered you in with a super-easy, fun-filled Los Angeles, then turned on the heat. By the time you realized it was a tough game, you were hooked!

You don't. You get down from a duck!

(drum fill) Sorry.

You must cut your way to freedom. Good adventurers always pack a knife.

It's in the restaurant, back at the resort.

Yep, it's "Restore" time again!

I must be missing something, as I seem to have lost most of my inventory when I landed in the jungle. Was there a more gentle method of leaving the parachute?

If you've ever broken your monitor, you know how painful that can be. That's one reason I hate the curse here, but I was born with this game and I didn't want it to go to waste.

No that's not. Can remember you were trying to keep your shrunken superconductor research secrets from the clutches of the evil Dr. Monoskull, and you've accomplished that. You landed with all you came.

My friends from the Bush party keep sweeping me off my feet. I love being romanced, but not like this. What's a poor Larry to do?

Stay as radical as you can until you "sweep past Bush".

Get to the lower left corner of the room. Just before you leave the bush, positioning the Kiser Sapse. Then, penultimate to Bush.

"Crank" or Set the Bush.

I am tired of playing Jonah and the Python. Just my luck: one snake in the entire jungle and he relishes the taste of polyester!

Use the Teddy Roosevelt approach.

Walk slowly and carry a big stick.

You are not approaching the puzzle "grop-sir".

There was a stick near your landing spot under the parachute. Grab it and use it here.

Use the stick to prop open the snake's mouth so he cannot swallow you.

After the snake drops his de-fist from the tree, but before you are all whooper up, "put the stick into the snake's mouth."

I HATE quicksand!

Watch the monkey. He is there to guide you.

You cannot go around the swamp. You must walk across the mud.

NU, the vines will not help you. At least, not here!

Look carefully at the ground here.

There is a definite pattern in the surface of the swamp. The monkey follows it out of the scene. You should follow it, too. There's no foul answer here, you just just walk carefully. I'd recommend saving your game every now and then.

If you have a mouse, use it. It makes the scene easier. It not slow down the game like the "slower" key.

Those piranha really tickle my fancy.

Year fancy what?

Really, such the piranha-infested water.

Then high thoughts.

"Tarzan" your way across.

Walk as fast as possible without touching water. "Swing on the vines".

I "Tarzan" my way to the first vine, but I have trouble "keeping it up!"

This seems tricky at first, but it is quite easy once you get the hang of it. As soon as you see Come on the vine, "swing on the next vine". Likewise, "swing on the next vine" as soon as you see him transformed to vine number two.

You didn't forget to "release the vine," did you?

Do nothing to cross the stream using all three vines (you just don't have it just yet, right?)

How do I get across that chasm after meeting the lady of my dreams? I keep taking a dive.

You've already solved the puzzle and don't realize it.

And you thought your swimming days were over back there at the river?

Of course, here you will have to "throw the vine" until it hooks on that limb across the chasm.

What vine? You did take a souvenir from the piranha river, didn't you?

As soon as you dismount from the vines, "look at the vines" says one of the vines looks solid, but is attached by only a thread. Need I say more?

If you've ever broken your onklunk, you know how painful that can be! That line doesn't make any sense here, but it was left over from the game and I didn't want it to go to waste!

No, there's not. But, remember: you were trying to keep your onklunk's superconductor research secrets from the clutches of the evil Dr. Nonookee, and you've accomplished that. You landed with all you could.

Stay as radical as you can until you're well past Bush.

Go to the lower left corner of the scene, just before you brush the bush containing the Killer Bees. Then, genuflect to Bush.

"Crawl under the bush."

Use the Teddy Roosevelt approach.

Walk softly and carry a big stick.

You are not approaching this puzzle "prop-erly."

There was a stick near your landing spot under the parachute. Grab it and use it here.

Use the stick to prop open the snake's mouth so he cannot swallow you.

After the snake begins his descent from the tree, but before you are all wrapped up, "put the stick into the snake's mouth."

Watch the monkey. He is there to guide you.

You cannot go around the swamp. You must walk across the middle.

No, the vines will not help you. At least, not here!

Look carefully at the ground here.

There is a definite pattern in the surface of the swamp. The monkey follows it out of the scene. You should follow it, too.

There's no trick answer here, you must just walk carefully. I'd recommend saving your game every few steps.

If you have a mouse, use it. It makes this scene easier. If not, slow down the game using the "slower" key.

Your fancy what?

Never touch the piranha-infested water.

Think high thoughts.

"Tarzan" your way across.

Walk as far east as possible without touching water. "Swing on the vines."

This seems tricky at first, but it is quite easy once you get the hang of it. As soon as you see Larry on the first vine, "swing on the next vine." Likewise, "swing on the next vine" as soon as you see him transferred to vine number two.

You didn't forget to "release the vine," did you?

Do not try to cross the stream using all three vines in just one command. It just will not work!

You've already solved this puzzle and don't realize it.

And you thought your swinging days were over back there at the river! Of course, here you will have to "throw the vine" until it hooks on that limb across the chasm.

What vine? You did take a souvenir from the piranha river, didn't you?

As soon as you dismounted from the vines, "look at the vines" says one of the vines looks solid, but is attached by only a thread. Need I say more?

What's with this native guy chopping wood? Will he show me how to cross that chasm? May I borrow his axe? Will he ever slow down enough to stop?

"He won't stop you by law,
Neither will his axe.
He's just a old, fat, red herring."

It's manner how long you wait. Just keep on chopping—slower and slower.

I am at the base of a gigantic glacier (and, by the way, what is a glacier doing on a tropical island, anyway?), trying to climb an ice ramp. I thought this might be like the whale's tongue in King's Quest IV, but I'm unable to find a path.

"This is a non-Calmian毛毛雨。
Those country people should solve this easily.
Look carefully around the native village. What the people carry to their caravans in the winter to help them get traction?
"Take the stones from the cursive." Or grab some sand from the beach.
Then spread the sand on the glacial ramp.

I am at the top of the crater near the elevator and cannot seem to get anything done. I just wanna ease on down the ol' Otis!

"Your hand is locked from stress.
You're going to be a little explosive here.
Hold a bomb." (In the game)
But don't hold the elevator door. That won't do you any good.
Drop your bomb into that large crevice at the center rear of the crater.

I have something that would make a suitable bomb, but I have nothing with which to light it.

"Oh, oh! You're not going to like this answer.
There are no matches in this system. You'll have to program it yourself.
Where could one find complementary roadblocks?
How about a road room?
Unfortunately, you will have to return back to the reactor to do this.

Every time I light the hair rejuvenator, it explodes in my face.

"Don't light it in the chair and remember to turn off the switch.
You need a fuse.
You missed something on the staircase. Would I do better if you tried to restore all the way back there?
"While in your seat, "look" around the airplane.
Take the small bag from the seatback pocket and use it for a fuse.

I have three items that should make an excellent explosive device. I try to build it and the game responds "Not here!" Ok, where?

"As you enter the crater, walk straight forward, pass the elevator, and stand behind the rock crevices. You can't see them, but they stand very near the edges. Get the peaceful bomb in the crater, then

My bomb keeps falling into the crevice, in spite of the fact that I don't want it to. I'm trying to build it, not drop it! What's going on here?

If you are having trouble getting the game to accept your instructions, be sure to use the "in your" instructions where appropriate.
"Put the bomb in the crater" will not work. "Put the bomb in the crater" will.

"Put the wind-up bag in the rejuvenator."
"Light the slate bag with the matches."
"Drop the bottle into the crevices."

He won't help you at all.
Neither will his axe.
He's just a big, fat, red herring.
No matter how long you wait, he'll just keep on chopping—slower and slower.

This is a non-Californian puzzle.
Snow-country people should solve this easily.
Look carefully around the native village. What do people carry in their car trunks in the winter to help them get traction?
"Take the ashes from the campfire." Or, grab some sand from the beach.
Then, "spread the ashes on the glacier."

You can't. It's locked from inside.
You've got to be a little explosive here.
Build a bomb.
But don't bomb the elevator door. That won't do you any good.
Drop your bomb into that large crevice at the center rear of the scene.

Oh, oh! You're not going to like this answer!
Matches are available in this game. You must have missed them.
Where could you find complimentary matchbooks?
How about a hotel room?
Unfortunately, you will have to restore back to the resort to do this.

Don't light it.
You need a fuse.
You missed something on the airplane. Wouldn't it just make you SICK to restore all the way back there?
While in your seat, "look" around the airplane.
"Take the airsick bag" from the seatback pocket and use it for a fuse.

As you enter the crater, walk straight forward, pass the elevator, and stand beside the large crevice.
Stand very near the edge, but be careful not fall in!

If you are having trouble getting the game to accept your instructions, be sure to use "the" in your instructions where applicable.
"Put _____ in _____" will not work. "Put THE _____ in THE _____" will.
"Put the airsick bag in the rejuvenator."
"Light the airsick bag with the matches."
"Drop the bottle into the crevice."

- "Look at the jogger in the park" by the Los Angeles airport hotel.
- "Look at the sidewalk" in front of Metro-Dire on Rodeo Drive.
- "Look through the knothole in the fence" in the alley near the Quik-Mart store in Los Angeles.
- Watch for the eyeball that occasionally appears at that knothole. (It is entirely random, and doesn't happen often.)
- Prosthetic counsellors have said to SALLY: "You must find exactly the right spot." (Walk as close as you can get to the far side of the trash bin, then go out until you touch the Quik-Mart.)
- "Buy a Grotesque Gulp" in the Quik-Mart when you have no money. Attempt to leave the store.
- Watch the Geek in Sarah's Signature pic. his nose.
- "Look at the disk" in all the stores in Los Angeles.
- "Toss it at the Mother" when she's sitting on the bed in her stateroom on the Love Bus.
- Tumble the love-Tub in swimming pose while diving to the bottom. (There's an "Oops" that appears just as you think.)
- Watch the couple in the Love Bus's revolving car section near the 5th floor day. (He tries something, but she pushes his hand away.)
- Get the mind of the tropical rock star to go to the Love Bus immediately. (Remember him in the intro? In this situation,

INSIDE JOKES

What's the name of the song that plays the first time you see Nontoonyt Island (during the opening cartoon)?

"Rock Your Nights Only"

Have you found the author's place of birth in the game? It's mentioned in "The Dating Connection" television program.

"Nugget Gumbo, Missouri" (No, I'm not kidding! You think that's funny?)

Who are all those people on "The Dating Connection?"

They represent the beta testers who helped me debug the game.

Barbara Basler, David Blair, Gurjeet Singh, Ishpal Singh, and Neil Rubenstein (whose name was changed to "A. P. Wile" to protect what's left of his reputation).

Who Is the Scurvy Dog named for?

The game's lead graphics artist Bill "Scurvy Dog" Skivin, of course.

My wife and I are both alto saxophone players. We have lots of reeds around the house.

Why is "Bird" capitalized when the KGB make you "zing like ze Bird?"

Because Charlie "Yardbird" Parker was bebop's greatest alto saxophonist and I'm a big fan. Rent the video of Clint Eastwood's movie "Bird" to find out more.

Why is that spinach dip in this game? It has no purpose, does it?

It's in the game because while I was designing this game, we hosted a party. Someone brought spinach dip. As it sat out all evening, it spoiled! For the following week, everyone who ate it was sick. So, you had to figure out that silly puzzle just because I made all my friends at Sierra sick!

Why Is there a shark in the jungle?

Nearly all of Slony's latest games have a shark. I didn't want to break tradition, although I thought it too trite to put my shark in the ocean. Hence, a KGB agent in a "jungle shark" hat.

What's the name of the song that drummer plays when Larry proves he's worthy of Kalalau's hand in marriage?

Why, it's that classic rock tune, "Compute Like a Man (Fast as you can)" of course. (Villagers groan.)

Whose idea was it to put a glacier in a jungle that would be melted by ashes?

Robert E. Hellman. You may thank him for that.

WALK THROUGH

WARNING: Do not read this section unless you have finished the game. It contains specific information that will spoil the game for you!

This is the shortest path through the game that will give you all 500 points. North is always assumed to be towards the top of your screen, south down, east to the right and west to the left. Words within quotation marks are to be typed into the computer exactly as shown. All ready? Here we go:

AROUND LOS ANGELES

Begin by following the Walk Thru in the "Tips for Beginning Adventurers" section of your documentation. We'll start again here after you've completed that.

Kennett: Ok. Leave the Quik-Mart and walk west until you reach KNGD studios. Go up the stairs and through the glass doors. Walk to the receptionist's desk. "Show the lottery ticket to the radio host." Write down the six numbers she gives you, then enter THOSE six numbers when she asks for YOUR six numbers. (Do NOT enter the numbers you gave the lottery machine in the Quik-Mart. You want to win the lottery, remember!)

Enter the Green Room. Walk to the north wall. "Sit down on the green room's bench." Wait 30 seconds for The Dating Connection's Assistant Producer to enter. "Stand up." Follow him into the studio. Watch the show. Enter your two best lines when asked. (Don't take it personally; Barbara hates whatever you type). Take the cruise ship ticket following the show. "Sit down" on the bench again. Wait for the Lucky Life Lottery's Assistant Producer to enter. "Stand." Follow her into the studio. Win again.

Walk to the sole remaining agent at the counter. "Purchase an airline ticket from the clerk." "Show my passport to the customs agent." Return to the snack bar and take the "slidewalk" on the right. Walk straight forward to the left end of the counter. "Take the bridge's partner from the case." "Show the airline ticket to the other agent." Board the airplane.

ON THE AIRPLANE

Does your life groove and this song does it now. Now finished him and stealth. Give the evidence partner to the fore." Then take the silk bag from the suitcase. "Ripped up." Walk east to the rear compartment. Wear the parachute. Walk south until you are thirty paces. Take the belt pin to pick the padlock. "Move the page exchanges." Open the emergency exit door. While the small airplane is at the top of the circle, "put the pistol." Turn to the microchip keypad. Can't see.

ON NONTONYT ISLAND

While standing from paradise. "Cut the paradise harness with the knife." Roll. Walk northeast. Pick up the bullet stick from the ground. Walk south as far as possible, then west as far as possible. "Crawl under the killer bee bush." Walk south.

Turn southeast until you pass between the large rocks in the center of the gorge. As the angle reduces 100, "Push the stick into the weeds' mucus." After an hour break crawl away. Walk west.

Look carefully at this scene. There is a faint legend in the ground that shows you the areas best which to walk. It goes from where you stand to a large rock, south by shortly east to the monkey's mountain, then east to the edge of the scene. Walk across the expanse, saving your game repeatedly just in case you are wrong.

Walk near the tree, staying behind the large grey rock on the northwest shore. "Swish on the vines." As soon as you do, jump to the first vine, "hang on the next one." Climb for one third. As soon as you see Ladybird Free, "seize the vines" and jump so safely. "Pull the vines from the heavy vines." Walk northeast to the beach.

Most the life of your dreams. Fall down. "Parachute damage" take microchip trailer. "From you to a room, I share the exchange." When the accumulated leaves, return to the village and take the pin from the chimney. Walk back to the beach and take some sand from the beach. "Fatten to the corpse." Turn the microchip trailer and swing across. Walk north to the grass.

Jump over the chain of 150000 of the chains. "Jump around the fishes on the glade" is beyond the head of the river. Walk north to the top of the volcano.

"With strength power and 300 servent work attacking vines that the whole head of the blood of slavery." "The big beauty like the imbecile" "from the which day and night comes." "Leave the microchip into the service." This situation will be 100% open. Enter the elevator. Finish off the mission. Returns through 100 magnitude. Many the life of your dreams. "live memory after sunset" or keep an eye on the sunset. Out last will.

religious pamphlet from the desk." "Show the airline ticket to the ticket agent." Board the airplane.

Once you are airborne and the bore beside you has finished his first speech, "give the religious pamphlet to the bore." Then "take the airsick bag from the seatback." "Stand up." Walk east to the rear compartment. "Wear the parachute." Walk south until you are nearly hidden. "Use the bobby pin to pick the padlock." "Move the large red handle." "Open the emergency exit door." While the small airplane is at the top of the picture, "pull the ripcord." Drift to the Nontoonyt Island. Land in a tree.

While hanging from parachute, "cut the parachute harness with the knife." Fall. Walk northeast. "Pick up the stout stick from the ground." Walk south as far as possible, then west as far as possible. "Crawl under the killer bee bush." Walk south.

Walk southeast until you pass between the large rocks in the center of the picture. As the snake notices you, "insert the stick into the snake's mouth." After the snake crawls away, walk east.

Look carefully at this scene. There is a faint pattern in the soil that shows you the areas upon which to walk. It goes from where you stand, to a large rock, south slightly, east to the monkey's starting rock, then east to the edge of the scene. Walk across the swamp, saving your game repeatedly (just in case you are wrong).

Walk near the river, stopping beside the large gray rock on the northwest shore. "Swing on the vine." As soon as you see Larry on the first vine, "swing on the next vine." Ditto for vine three. As soon as you see Larry on vine three, "release the vine" and drop to safety. "Pull the vine from the tree branch." Walk northeast to the beach.

Meet the girl of your dreams. Fall in love. Propose marriage. Talk with her father. Prove you're a man. (Learn she's a virgin.) When Chief Keneewauwau leaves, return to the village and "take the ashes from the campfire." Walk back to the beach and "take some sand from the beach." Return to the chasm. "Throw the vine across the limb" and swing across. Walk north to the glacier.

Stand near the center of the base of the glacier. Either "spread the ashes on the glacier" or "spread the sand on the glacier." Walk north to the top of the volcano.

Walk straight north past the elevator door stopping very near the crevice (east of the plume of smoke). "Put the airsick bag in the rejuvenator." "Light the airsick bag with the matches." "Throw the rejuvenator into the crevice." The elevator will be forced open. Enter the elevator. Finish off the evil Dr. Nonookee through your ineptitude. Marry the girl of your dreams. Live happily ever after! Or, keep an eye out for Leisure Suit Larry III!!

SCI

SCI, Sierra's Creative Interpreter, is an in-house, third-generation, adventure game language that includes everything necessary to produce games like King's Quest and Leisure Suit Larry. Largely through the work of Jeff Stephenson, Bob Heitman and other programmers, it allows specialists like artists, musicians, designers and high-level programmers to create every aspect of three-dimensional, animated, graphic adventure games. Picture, view, font and cursor editors; graphics card drivers; MIDI device drivers; compilers, interpreters, and literally dozens of utilities are the result of millions of dollars of software development.

HISTORY

All this is descended from Roberta Williams' revolutionary idea, and Ken Williams' innovative programming, back in 1980. Roberta wanted a game similar to the mainframe game Adventure, that would also display graphics on their Apple ][ home computer. Ken wrote a picture editor and interpreter entirely in Assembler, since no higher level languages except BASIC existed for the Apple then. Roberta wrote the story, and drew the pictures on one of Apple's first graphics tablets. Thus was born Mystery House and a new genre of computer games.

Roberta demanded color, so their next game, The Wizard and the Princess had the first color-filled pictures. Later, with the first King's Quest three-dimensionality, sound and animation were added in AGI, the second-generation Adventure Game Interpreter.

Always the games provided more, first... the first pictures, more pictures per disk, the first color-filled pictures, more colors, the first three-dimensional graphics, more animation, more music, the first MIDI sounds, the first Hollywood sound track, etc. etc. And still Sierra presses forward: expect the future to hold CD-ROM games, with photographic-quality pictures, real-time television animation, CD-quality music, speech, and...
